3. In case of dissolution of the Society, the property, assets and monies belonging to the Society shall be donated to such non profit Christian educational cause as may be decided upon by the Society members in good standing at a meeting called for that purpose, where not inconsistent with the Constitution of the Society or the laws of the United States of America.

The above paragraph is not subject to change or amendment unless by a unanimous vote of the full members of the Society.

The Statement of Purpose for the Society

A. Christian Principles The basis of CCCS is the infallible Word of God manifest in creation, incarnate in Jesus Christ and unscripted in the Bible as it is confessed to be God's Word. Please see statement of faith.

1. The Bible: That God by His infallible Word; renews mans understanding of Him, of man himself, of his fellow men and of the world; directs man in all his relationships and activities and therefore guides His people in the education of their children.
2. Creation: That in their education, children must come to learn that the world and man's calling in it, can rightly be understood only in their relationship to the triune God who, by his creation, restoration, and governance, directs all things to the coming of His Kingdom and the glorification of His name.
3. Sin: That mans sin alienates him from God and it distorts his view of the true meaning and purpose of life; and misdirects human culture.
4. Jesus Christ: That through our Savior, Jesus Christ, there is renewal of our educational enterprise because He the Redeemer of, and the Light and the Way for, our human life in all its range and variety. Only through Him and the work of His Spirit are we guided in the truth and recommitted to our original calling.

B. Elements of Christian Education

1. Schools: The purpose of Christian schools is to educate children for a life of obedience to their calling as image bearers of God; and that calling is to know God's Word and His creation, to consecrate the whole of human life to God, to love their fellowmen and to be stewards in their God given cultural task.
2. Parents: The primary responsibility for education rests upon parents to whom God entrusts children, and that Christian parents should accept this obligation, which God established. If they should seek to release this obligation, it should be done through school associations and school boards that engage the services of Christian teachers in Christian schools
3. Teachers: Christian teachers, in cooperation with parents, have a unique educational responsibility to God while educating the child.
4. Pupils: Christian schools must take into account the variety of abilities, needs and responsibilities of young persons; that endowments and calling of young persons as God's image bearers, and their defects and inadequacies as sinners, require that such learning goals and such curricula will be selected as will best prepare them to live as obedient Christians; and that only with constant attention to such educational concerns, will education be truly Christian.
5. Community: Because God's covenant embraces not only parents and their children but also the whole Christian community to which they belong, and Christian education contributes directly to the advancement of God's Kingdom, it is important that the Christian community pray and work hard to establish and support Christian schooling.
6. Educational Freedom: Christian schools organized and administered in accordance with legitimate standards and provisions for day schools should be fully recognized in society as free to function according to these principles.
